

BEL, the trusted partner of electrical professionals in Canada for over 60 years.

Founded in Montreal in 1964, BEL traces its roots to the Bélanger family workshop and quickly built a reputation for superior product quality and outstanding customer service. From that DNA emerged a complete range of electrical enclosures, renowned for their quality, durability, and performance.

Backed by deep expertise in custom design, BEL solutions meet the needs of the commercial and industrial sectors as well as OEMs. Using premium-grade materials and advanced manufacturing processes, they provide reliable protection against the elements, contaminants, and demanding operating conditions.

Now part of ABB Installation Products in Canada, BEL strengthens an already extensive portfolio of equipment designed to protect and connect electrical systems, from everyday environments to the most demanding applications.

Whether standard models or custom designs, BEL integration into ABB Canada ensures a dependable partner, improved market availability, a single purchasing journey for simplified ordering and invoicing, and prompt turnaround on quote requests.

True to the spirit of the Bélanger family and now within the larger ABB family, we remain close to people and their projects.
